SOLDIER FROM MARION KILLED IN RANGER RAID

Sgt. Ward Garrison, Previously Listed as Missing, Dies in North African Action.

Sgt. Ward Garrison, 28, previously reported as missing in U.S. service action on Feb. 12 in the Tunisian sector of the North African theater, was killed in action this morning by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Garrison, 236 Chestnut street, in a garage owned by the adjutant general's office in Washington, D. C. Garrison, the third Marion youth to die since the North African campaign was started by the United Nations, was Pfc. Donald V. Ruth, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ruth, 195 Curtis court; and Pfc. John Ashworth, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Ashworth of the North State street.

On Feb. 23 Garrison's parents were informed by the war department that their son was missing in U. S. ranger activity on Feb. 12. Believed to have been captured by the same raid in which Captain for his life was Sgt. Dale Greenland, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Greenland of 583 North Prospect street. According to the Associated Press report received at that time, the raid was made for the Ranger battalion in Tunisia.

Captain's Letter
Earlier this month a letter was received from Pfc. Garrison's commanding officer, Capt. R. A. Murray Jr., from "somewhere in North Africa," revived Mr. and Mrs. Garrison's hopes that their son might still be alive. Captain Murray expressed an opinion that Garrison was wounded in the Ranger attack, which was made at night.

His letter, in part, follows:

"We went on a night raid about three weeks ago and the company did a fine job in accomplishing their mission. Your son did great work during the first part of the raid. When we withdrew, we checked for missing men and went back and picked up the wounded we could find. Since it was pitch dark and we were under enemy fire, the task was somewhat difficult. Unfortunately we could not locate Elmer, which leads us to believe that he must have been wounded, otherwise he would have reported back. I am sorry that we can't give you more positive information but this is the test: we can do. At least it enlarges on the base facts of a war department message."

Elmer was one of my best soldiers, he always did more than his duty. I feel we have lost him only temporarily... Elmer, by the way, was awarded the Order of the Purple Heart for his part in this raid. In due time it will be presented to you."

In his letter Capt. Murray included a picture of "his girl whom I met in Dundee, and Elmer."

WARREN G. HARDING, Marion's most famous son, and other men prominent in Washington when World War I was in progress are shown lining up in Washington for war bond purchases to finance that conflict. Left to right are shown Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, Senators Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, Albert B. Cummings of Iowa, Mr. Harding, then senator from Ohio, Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota, and Lee S. Overman of North Carolina. The bonds were then called Liberty Bonds.

County Drive Enters Second Week with Sales Up to $1,622,421.

Workers turned in $138,915 Saturday in the Marion county phase of the Second War Loan campaign, boosting the total to date to $1,622,421.

This gave Marion county nearly 65 per cent of its $2,533,000 goal and reduced the amount yet to be raised to less than million dollars. The drive will continue this week and next.

Saturday's figure, considered satisfactory in view of the fact it was a "short" day for the banks, which close early on Saturday's, included several large individual purchases.

Topping the list was a $10,000 individual purchase, and others included $6,000 and $5,000 items. About $16,000 of the total was in "E" bonds.

Chairman Fred E. Guthery today renewed his appeal for more individual purchases, emphasizing that hundreds of small purchases must be obtained before the drive ends. He urged Marion county residents to buy to the limit of their ability to help swell the county's total and make the nationwide campaign for 13 billion dollars a success.

Drive leaders today listed again the various issues offered in the war bond drive, giving the principal features about each.

To the information listed below, it might well be added that each one qualifies as the highest quality security in the world, and that the reasons for purchasing any of them should include patriotism as well.

John Q. Citizen Falls Behind in Bond Purchases

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 19.—John Q. Citizen is due for some visits by his local war bonds volunteer salesmen.

By last Friday night—when the treasury's latest official figures were announced—Mr. Citizen had bought only $90,000,000 worth of war savings bonds in a drive that has its sight set on a goal of 13 billion dollars.

This didn't mean that the drive wasn't going along nicely.

The treasury announced a total of more than 9 billion had been subscribed by Friday night.

ALLIED PILOTS WIN GREATEST VICTORY IN AIR OVER AFRICA*HOUSE GROUPS SEEK SOLUTION TO PAY-GO TAX

Committee Members Go Into Huddle with Leaders in House.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 19—Unsuccessful in weekend attempts to work out an acceptable pay-as-you-go income tax proposal, members of a ways and means committee "compromise" group went into a huddle with house leaders today in an effort to find a middle ground.

Republicans supporting a modified Rumford plan to skip a year's taxes, and Democrats opposing the proposal, were hopeful an agreement could be reached for a house vote this week or next.

Ranking members of both parties on the ways and means committee—the six congressmen making up the so-called "compromise committee"—held night and Sunday conferences without reaching an agreement. They were optimistic, however, over prospects for an early vote in the house.

"There is now very good possibility of enactment of a pay-as-you-go legislation," commented Chairman Dougherty (D-N.C.) of the ways and means committee. Representative K. W. L. Johnson (R-Minn.), one of the leaders in the group advocating a modified Rumford plan, said he was "very hopeful" an agreement could be reached by tomorrow.

Despite the optimistic expressions of Dougherty and Knutson, some Capitol Hill observers believed chances of an early agreement were slim.

On the senate side of Capitol Hill, Majority Leader Barkley indicated the only legislation definitely in sight for senate action this week was on a minor deficiency bill.

Senate advocates of proposals to put the senate on record for post-war collaboration with other nations termed the result of a poll "highly satisfactory." The poll, conducted by The Associated Press, showed 32 senators opposed, 24 favorable and 32 undecided.

RAF Bombers Cross Alps To Hit Italian Naval Base

Only One Plane Lost in Heavy Raiding Force; German Targets in France Also Blasted.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 19—British heavy-based bombers made the long trip across the Alps again last night to blast the Italian naval base and submarine base on the French coast.

The attack was described as heavy and concentrated and while it was in progress, aircraft of the lighter command struck at enemy destroyers at La Spezia, the German naval and submarine base on the French coast.

One bomber failed to return from the attack on Spezia. The Italian port was attacked at the beginning of the present long-sustained aerial offensive against continental targets last Tuesday night.

Frightened trains and locomotives in northern France also were attacked during the night and one fighter plane was reported missing.

Strong units of the Italian fleet were suspected in hiding at Spezia. Observers said the success of the attack and the weakness of Italian defenses was shown in the contrast between one bomber lost last night and 35 missing from the two-prong blow against the Skoda works at Pilsen and at Mannheim in Germany Friday.

Attacking Spezia were Lancasters, Halifaxes and Stirlings which flew at least 1,300 miles on the round trip.

As the black-winged bombers were berthed in their hangars, RAF fighters carried on the aerial offensive with morning sweeps over the Dover straits.

The Italian communiqué said Spezia was one of several targets of "four-engined American bombers."

Mosquitos, Whirlwinds and Beaufighters damaged nine railway trains in north France; it was announced.

The rail on Italy was launched after a day of activity in which RAF engaged an enemy convoy of 15 ships off the Dutch coast, leaving one vessel ablaze and landed the docks at Dieppe.

As the black-winged bombers were berthed in their hangars, RAF fighters carried on the aerial offensive with morning sweeps over the Dover straits.

When the worker is discharged by his last employer.

When the worker is laid off for an indefinite period or for a period of seven days or more.

Public Favors Drafting Workers "If Necessary"

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., April 12—Of all domestic problems of the war, the most difficult to solve has been manpower.

The heart of the issue is whether there should be a federal draft of manpower to meet critical labor shortages. Such a draft is embodied in the Austin-Wadsworth national service bill now in the Senate. "When the people are ready for this type of legislation," said Senator Kilgore this week, "they will accept it, but not before."

What is the reaction of the people? An analysis of their attitudes toward a manpower draft, based on surveys by the Institute, reveals these things:

1.—The majority have been ready to accept a labor draft, in principle, for more than a year, provided the need for it is convincingly shown.

2.—At present, however, the need has not been made apparent to the general public. There is much confusion in the mind of the average citizen as to the exact facts, and a great many are not aware that there is any manpower shortage at all in war industries.

If the need for a worker draft is made plain to the country, there is little question that the majority would accept it.

Answers Year Ago

In March, 1942, for example, when the country had been at war for only a few months, the Institute conducted a national survey in which it found that the great majority favored the registration of all able-bodied men and women for war work, and were willing to grant the government the power, through local draft boards, to tell each person what to do.

The actual figures were 82 per cent in favor of the registration, and 61 per cent in favor of drafting. That was a full year before the Austin-Wadsworth national service bill was introduced in the Senate.

Need Must Be Shown

Always, in inducing the public to accept sacrifices, the important factor is whether the necessity has been made apparent to the satisfaction of the people.

The record shows that, when this was done, the public has willingly cooperated. The conscription of 18-and 19-year-olds, taxes on small incomes, rationing of rubber, fuel and food, fixing of wages and prices, the selective service act itself—all those things the public accepted, and indeed favored before Congress took action, because the people saw the necessity for each particular program.

Draft Boards Praised
If a manpower draft does go into effect, probably the best way to obtain public support is for manning to go through the local draft boards which handle military conscription, or through boards of that type. The Austin-Wadsworth bill would give the job to the local military draft boards themselves.

Despite confusion over Washington's draft policies, classifications and deferments, the American people have high confidence in their local draft boards. The great majority believe the boards are doing their job fairly.

Usually Localized
The obvious reason for the public's attitude is, of course, that critical labor shortages are generally localized in defense areas with the result that millions of people who live in town or cities without defense plants do not personally observe any pressing shortage in their own communities.

Whatever the reason, here is the public's attitude as measured

THE 2ND WAR LOAN DRIVE IS ON!

WINNER TAKE ALL!

There is one stark and simple fact about war which you had better get straight . . . and quickly, too

THERE IS NO SECOND PLACE IN A WAR—IT'S EITHER WIN OR LOSE!

This war is being fought for tremendous stakes . . .

. . . for your life and your liberty.

. . . for your church and your children.

. . . for your freedom and your future.

And it's WINNER TAKE ALL. Don't forget that for a minute.

The winner will dictate whether tomorrow you shall be a free citizen of a free world, or a helpless serf to a "master race."

The winner will dictate whether you shall live and prosper under the Four Freedoms, or toil hopelessly in the darkness of a "New Order."

The winner will dictate . . . because the winner takes all.

The winner takes all. All you own, all you hold dear.

The winner is being decided right now . . . today . . . this very minute . . . on battlefields all over the world. Will you stand idly by . . . or throw all your weight on our side?

The weight of mighty tanks and planes. The weight of thousands of guns and millions of shells. The weight of billions of dollars . . . 13 billions which your country asks you to lend during this Drive.

Your country wants to borrow every idle dollar you have—every dollar except what you need for the bare necessities of life.

You'll have to give up some luxury or comfort which was dear to your heart. You'll have to postpone some pleasure which you had been eagerly anticipating.

But what of it?

Your sons and brothers and husbands are dying out there . . . fighting your fight. Surely it is no sacrifice to lend your dollars while they are giving their lives.

They need your help. They need the weapons your money can buy. If one of the War Loan volunteers calls on you . . . greet him with open pocketbook. Remember, Uncle Sam's goal is 13 billion dollars in April.

Don't wait to be asked. Go to your nearest bank, investment dealer, broker, Post Office or issuing agency and lay your money on the line. Remember, it's an investment you're making—an investment that pays a good return and insures a happier future for you and your loved ones.

So lend up to the limit.

You'll sleep better for it.

This Week in the Sky

(Prepared especially for this page by the Hayden Planetarium, The American Museum of Natural History, New York City)

ON TUESDAY, April 20th, the moon will be at the full, rising as the sun sets, and setting as the sun rises the next morning. By observation over a sufficiently long period of time it can be ascertained that the moon rises on an average 50 minutes later on succeeding nights. This is, of course, because of the moon's easterly motion around the earth, and the fact that since the moon is constantly moving eastward against the background of the stars, it will take it longer to come back to the eastern horizon tomorrow night than it will tonight.

At this same time, April 20th, Venus will be observed between the star Aldebaran and the Pleiades.

On Wednesday, April 21st, the Lyrid shower of meteors occurs. These meteors appear to originate in the constellation Lyra which just after midnight on this date will be in the northeastern sky. The radiant point from which the Lyrids seem to come has a right ascension of 280° and declination of 37°. The Lyrids are not the brightest of the meteors nor the most numerous, but they sometimes put on a good show.

On the evening of Saturday, the 24th, Saturn will be about 3° south of Venus and about 5° from Aldebaran.

WLB Ruling Affects Lima Plant Workers

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 19—The regional war labor board announced today approval of a proposal by the Lima (O.) Locomotive Works, Inc., to eliminate a 60-day probationary period for 276 shopmen, during which they have been paid 63 cents an hour.

Under the proposal, retroactive to last Feb. 22, new employees will receive the regular hourly rates of 74 cents for iron foundry beginners and 71 cents for beginners in all other departments. These rates were approved because they are comparable to hiring rates paid by other plants in the area for similar work, the WLB said.

The board said its decision was made before the presidential "hold-the-line" order of April 3.

War Plant Labor Hearing Ends

drivers will be given a ballot on which they may stipulate which union, the URWA or the Teamster's union, Local 632, AFL, they desire to serve as their bargaining agent.

At the conclusion of the hearing shortly before 6:30 Saturday night, Mr. Hill said the hearing was one of the longest conducted by the NLRB office in Cleveland in several months. It was considerably longer than previous NLRB hearings conducted for other Marion industrial groups.

In most hearings of this nature only one labor party is involved, but in this case both major union organizations, the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organization, figure.

Bargaining Unit Issue

The AFL group, Teamster's Union Local 632, contended throughout the hearing that the truck drivers, chauffeurs and helpers employed by the United States Rubber Co. at its Scioto Ordnance Plant constituted an appropriate bargaining unit. On the other hand, the United Rubber Workers of America Local 241 representatives argued that these employees did not consist of a separate bargaining unit and therefore should be included in the general industrial unit proposed by the company.

During testimony Friday afternoon, Roger A. Donley, service manager at the ordnance plant for the operating firm, stated that the company did not consider truck drivers as an appropriate unit.

This year the emphasis will be on practical, durable "victory" styles. Over one hundred models will model outfit which they have designed and made.

Miss Hoyer, who was the "most photographed" model at the show two years ago, will be chairman of the event May 8.

O. W. G. Style Show

The frills, ruffles, and old lace of former years will be absent from Ohio Wesleyan university's annual style show when it is presented on May 8. It was announced today by Phyllis Myers (above), Dayton junior.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Cope, local of 524 Pearl street entertained with a dinner Sunday evening in honor of the birthday anniversary of their daughter, Jeanette, and Mrs. W. B. Sargent. Mrs. L. C. McDaniels was the hostess. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McDaniels and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sargent.

Mrs. Charles Hoagland on Mound street entertained the Hi Ho club at her home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Charles Trauffer won first honors in costume and Mrs. LeRoy Waters was consigned. Mrs. Ernest Phillips won the guessing box award. The hostess served lunch assisted by her granddaughter, Barbara.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sturgeon of 442 Girard avenue entertained at a miscellaneous shower Friday evening for Miss Genevieve Baesford, whose marriage to Kenneth Kemmerly of 100 North Seftner avenue.

The double ring ceremony was read by Chaplain Hogg at the First Chapel, Eagle Pass, Texas, Saturday, April 10, at 8:30.

Mrs. Natalie Fabian of Boston Mass. attended the bride and Cadet John Kite of Liberty, N. C., served as best man. Cadet George Kelly of Brooklyn, N. Y., was the only guest.

The bride was attired in a two-piece white wool dress with Kelly green accessories. Mrs. Fabian wore a gold-colored dress with black accessories.

The bride has been employed for the past several months at the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation in San Diego, Calif. Cadet Kemmerly, who has been receiving his training in the Gulf Coast area, is now stationed at the Advanced Flying School, Eagle Pass, Texas, and will receive his wings and commission the latter part of May.

Mrs. Kemmerly will remain in Eagle Pass with her husband until he receives his commission and is transferred to another post.

Weddings

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Edna Davis Caskey and Lloyd E. Dearth which took place Friday afternoon, April 9, in the parsonage of Central Christian Church. The single ring ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Eldred Johnston.

Preparation for War

Called Task of Schools
By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., April 19.—The immediate task of all schools and colleges is the training of technicians and officers for war work, Gov. Bricker told 150 graduating students at the University of Dayton at commencement exercises here last night.

"The essence of that building program," he said, "is the training of men and women for leadership and the inculcation of Christian ideals which alone must motivate men and nations in peaceful society."

"We in America have been forgetting the importance of cooperation and self-reliance. Centralized governments, all-powerful bureaucracies, and paternalism are examples of the trend."

"Enlightened government must meet social needs. But it must also guard against any trend toward state collectivism. Such a trend leads inevitably to human disintegration."

The house cut off its funds, a sitting Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) was reported taking the lead in the senate appropriations committee in a move to amend the $620,000,000 independent office bill to reinstate a part of the funds covered in the original request.

At this point Mr. House was asked by Mr. House if any of the men he had talked with expressed an opinion about joining the URWA. Mr. Lind's answer, "Yes. One man said he was afraid to sign up with the URWA." He did not explain this statement.

Windings up the URWA contention, Mr. House said the group he represented desired a unit be set up by the NLRB for the production and maintenance workers including truck drivers, chauffeurs and helpers but excluding supervisory employees, office and clerical workers, technical employees, plant patrolmen and police matrons. As a result of an NLRB election conducted at the ordnance plant about two weeks ago, the URWA Local 241, CIO, has been certified as the exclusive bargaining agent for plant patrolmen and police matrons. In the election 87 per cent of the eligible voters participated and 99.9 per cent of those voting requested the CIO organization as its bargaining unit.

Mr. House stated there was no clearly designated group of truck drivers working at the plant but a large number of drivers and chauffeurs whose duties entitle them to the duties of production and maintenance employees.

Two Points Cleared

Two points of dispute which resulted in considerable controversy during the two-day session were cleared Saturday by agreement of company officials and the two unions.

The first, on Friday, involved the company and the URWA over the question in the unit of group leaders. It was agreed the company's production line. The company contended these employees served in supervisory capacities at least 50 per cent of their working time, but the union argued that the group leader's duties were not of a supervisory nature.

At the opening of the Saturday session, Mr. Hill said the hearing was one of the longest conducted by the NLRB office in Cleveland in several months. It was considerably longer than previous NLRB hearings conducted for other Marion industrial groups.

In most hearings of this nature only one labor party is involved, but in this case both major union organizations, the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organization, figure.

Bargaining Unit Issue

The AFL group, Teamster's Union Local 632, contended throughout the hearing that the truck drivers, chauffeurs and helpers employed by the United States Rubber Co. at its Scioto Ordnance Plant constituted an appropriate bargaining unit. On the other hand, the United Rubber Workers of America Local 241 representatives argued that these employees did not consist of a separate bargaining unit and therefore should be included in the general industrial unit proposed by the company.

During testimony Friday afternoon, Roger A. Donley, service manager at the ordnance plant for the operating firm, stated that the company did not consider truck drivers as an appropriate unit.

This year the emphasis will be on practical, durable "victory" styles. Over one hundred models will model outfit which they have designed and made.

Miss Hoyer, who was the "most photographed" model at the show two years ago, will be chairman of the event May 8.

Truckers Testify

Shortly after the hearing adjourned following the noon recess, Mr. Donley presented the trial examiner with a complete list of full-time truck drivers employed at the plant and another list of employees who drive trucks in the performance of other duties.

It was the contention of the Teamster's union representative, Donald L. Martin, that the latter group should be included in the unit argued for by his organization.

In trying to prove in which group truck drivers should be classified, representatives of both unions called a number of witnesses Saturday.

Appearing for the AFL organization was Walter W. Bowers of 390 Chester street, president of Teamster's union Local 632. Although not employed at the ordnance plant, Mr. Bowers testified to the union's requirements for membership. Stating his opinion why truck drivers at the plant should be affiliated with a craft union similar to the AFL Teamster's union, he said the local union had successfully served as bargaining agent for truck drivers as electricians, carpenters, etc. would be included in the unit.

Saturday's session opened at 9:30 a. m. and continued through 12:30 when Trial Examiner Hill ordered the court recessed for session last until 6:30 p. m. Friday's opening session lasted about six hours.

PLEASURE DRIVING FURTHER RESTRICTED

Fuel for Transportation To Summer Homes Denied.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The OPA today prohibited issuance of extra gasoline rations for driving to and from summer homes and in the east also banned gasoline for pleasure boating.

The "summer home" ruling did not interfere with anyone's right to use his regular gasoline coupons for transportation to a seasonal dwelling, but forbade location ration boards from providing any extra coupons to facilitate such driving.

"Extra rations of gasoline to enable motorists to drive between their temporary summer homes and their places of work," the agency aid, "cannot be allowed this year because of the rubber shortage throughout the country and low gasoline supplies in certain areas."

At the same time, OPA chilled any potential inquiries about "vacation gas," saying "no vacation and summer home travel can be encouraged while the rubber and gasoline shortages are making it necessary to curtail severely many types of passenger car use, including driving in many occupations."

These witnesses said that some truck drivers employed by the rubber company have sought to become members of the rubber workers union.

Tells of Applications

Mr. Ferguson testified that he had talked with a number of drivers about union membership and he said he had accepted five applications for membership in the URWA from United States Rubber Co. truckers.

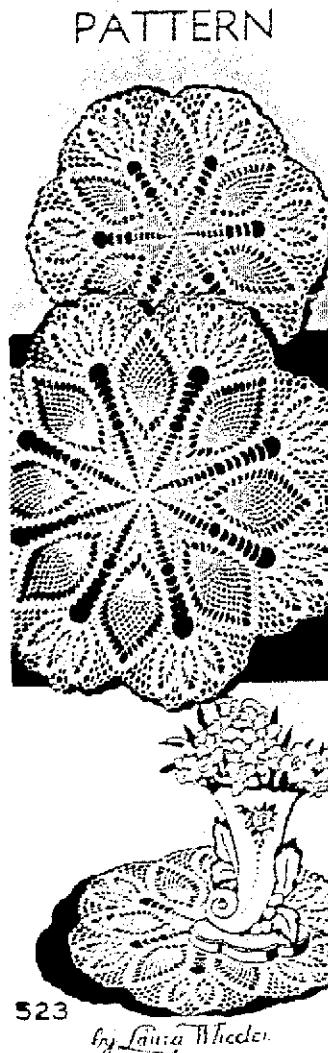

Mr. Lind, who told the trial examiner that he was a member of an AFL truck drivers organization in Toledo between 1935 and 1937, likewise said he had contacted truck drivers employed at the plant on the matter of union representation. Questioned by the trial examiner, Mr. Lind further stated that he personally had accepted five applications from ordinance plant truck drivers for membership in the URWA since early in March.

At this point Mr. Lind was asked by Mr. House if any of the men he had talked with expressed an opinion about joining the URWA. Mr. Lind's answer, "Yes. One man said he was afraid to sign up with the URWA." He did not explain this statement.

Windings up the URWA contention, Mr. House said the group he represented desired a unit be set up by the NLRB for the production and maintenance workers including truck drivers, chauffeurs and helpers but excluding supervisory employees, office and clerical workers, technical employees, plant patrolmen and police matrons. PORLAND, Ore., April 19.—The war manpower commission orders to loggers to get out of high-paying war industry jobs and back into the woods probably will set the pattern for any future civilian conscription, some observers in the Pacific northwest lumber country said today.

The order was issued by the war manpower commission to solve what it called "the No. 1 manpower problem of the west." It applied, some noted, to the same area where loggers staged strikes over similar wage and job issues in the last war.

No opposition has developed this time.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE MAINTAINED IN AP

General Manager Cooper Replies to War Coverage.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

APRIL 19 — Terminal editor of "extraordinary difficulties of all kinds" of directors of Associated Press in behalf of its members, expressed his confidence in the entire staff of the Associated Press will continue to receive approval and heartfelt thanks of the citizens of this great nation.

His annual report was presented to members assembled for meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

It was directed to the General Manager Kenton, in which he paid tribute to the management and the staff under his direction for the extraordinary efforts of war time requirements of war elements and to the work of correspondents assigned to battle areas.

His report continued: "Success was attained in every field saw the number of men leave for military service to more than 400, or 10 per cent of the staff, and some which tested as never before the resourcefulness, courage, stamina and capabilities of every individual."

Now in the battle areas of the world there is owing to the sacrifice and superb hardihood of conditions both difficult and serious."

He also commended the members of the board and the management for their "restraining efforts" in participating in the "censorship," and added: "At the same time, every effort is to be made to obtain full and full access to news publications where such publication would not adversely affect the war effort."

Speaking on legal problems engaging the attention of the board during the year, particularly the action brought in August by the department of justice in New York federal court charging certain by-law provisions of the organization operated in restraint of trade, the report said:

The board feels, as respects the litigation, that the effort of the department of justice to make a public trial out of the Associated Press must be strenuously opposed, among other reasons in order to foreclose against the next step if the department is unsuccessful; namely, government regulation as a public utility; the board feels that The Associated Press is being able and energetically represented by competent counsel and every appropriate step is being taken to protect The Associated Press and its members."

Big Bombing Raids Putting Finger on Hitler's Strength

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

These great week-end bombing raids by the allies into the heart of Germany, and even beyond into distant Czechoslovakia, are indeed sensational news.

They mean United Nations air-power finally is putting the finger in a big way on Hitler's carefully excluded strength. It's the productive strength upon which he has been depending, snugly to keep him going, because he thought it was outside the danger zone.

Take that Royal air force raid agains Pilzen, clear across Germany and into Bohemia; that must have caused consternation in the Fuehrer's windy camp. When you say "Pilsen" you think of beer, but it wasn't been his majesty's birdmen were after.

Pilsen is the site of the Skoda armament works—one of the greatest war plants in the whole world. It straddles over many acres and forms an enormous target for bombers. But Hitler wasn't much worried over Skoda, because it lay so deep in the continent that there seemed little fear the allies could carry out more than rare token raids against it.

Skoda Aces In Hole

The Skoda works have been the all highest's ace in the hole, for even though the more exposed Krupp armament works at Essen were knockout about, he still would have in Skoda the balance of strength needed to keep his war-machine running.

Moreover Skoda is centrally located and so can supply his forces in all the European theaters.

But an RAF fleet winged its way some 700 miles west across Germany, in the midst of flying flak and attacks by fighter planes, to deluge peaceful Pilzen with death and destruction.

At the same time another contingent of British bombers smashed at the important industrial cities of Mannheim and Ludwigshafen in southwest Germany.

The two raids employed 600 heavy bombers, and 1,500 tons of bombs were loosed on the Boche. The British loss of 55 planes wasn't costly enough to make the operations unprofitable.

Simultaneously the Russians made another raid on Koenigsberg, the great German supply base in East Prussia. Neighborhood Danzig and Tilsit also were bombed. The Red airmen inflicted considerable damage.

But the British and Russian raids were only part of the story. The attack by American Flying Fortresses on the Focke-Wulf airplane works at Bremen, resulting in more than half the factories being destroyed or heavily damaged, was a further heartening demonstration that allied victory is on the wing.

Deadliest Flight Into Germany

This expedition represented the deepest penetration our bombers had made into German territory, and it was an astonishing feat. It was done in broad daylight and the huge bombers were unescorted by defending fighters. The distance was too great for fighter support.

This meant the Fortresses had to fly across about the strongest anti-aircraft defenses on the continent. It meant they had to battle their way through clouds of German fighter planes, as is shown by the remarkable fact that the Yankee crews shot down some 50 Nazi machines. That indicates fierce combat, to put it mildly, and it's a further convincing exhibition not only of the fire-power and armor which these air Leviathans have but of the capability of their crews. We lost 16 planes out of what is described as a large force.

All in all, the week-end's fresh display of allied air power must be the cause of extreme anxiety to the Nazi high command. The increasing roar of United Nations bombers over the territory which Hitler has regarded as secure is the trumpet that will crumble the Walls of Jerico and let the attacking armies in.

very short time" and that it would develop a bitter "bloody and violent as never before."

Saturday night medium and light bombers attacked enemy fields in Tunisia and a railway yard at Tunis.

Eleven allied planes were reported missing from these various operations. Five enemy bombers were automated to raid Algiers last night were destroyed, the communiqué said, and only a very few of the planes penetrated the defenses of the city. There were some casualties and some damage.

The French advance was made Saturday night and it was announced that more prisoners were taken. On the Eighth army front along the line stretching westward from Enfidaville, patrol activity continued, the communiqué said.

(The Italian high command from Rome and recorded by The Associated Press that "more intense fighting activity" developed on the Tunisian front yesterday.)

The bitter battle which drove the Germans out of the Maten line into a night are around Birze and Tunis had dwindled to patrol activity, allied headquarters announced, but allied bombers continued to smash at the main Tunisian and Sicilian ports in axis hands, adding six more ships to the number sunk or damaged and destroying 38 more planes.

Fortresses Raid Palermo

American Flying Fortresses, in another attack on Palermo harbor, Sicily, hit four ships in the harbor Saturday and shot down 17 German planes while torpedobombs and torpedo planes of the Royal Navy put torpedoes into two axis ships in the Gulf of Tunis, sinking at least one of the ships.

Meanwhile, Lieut. Gen. Carl Spaatz, allied air chief, in the northwest Africa theater, said his forces had "secured supremacy of the air since the beginning of the March line battle" and had shot down 519 axis planes since March 20 against a loss of 175. Spaatz said nearly 1,000 enemy planes were destroyed on the ground in that period.

We roared freely over Tunisia, Sicily, Sardinia and Italy day and night, Spaatz said. "It is very rare for the Luftwaffe to indulge in anything but sneak raids. What we accomplish is greatly superior in its effects to what the enemy does."

The air chief said the axis still had a "considerable fighter strength" in Tunisia, but operated his bombers from Sicily and Sardinia, "where they are safer and more easily supplied, but distant from the front."

Spaatz said American planes in the northwest Africa theater were good and American pilots "as good as the pilots of any nation, and the RAF admits that freely."

Entrants were graded on the rating system which has been used for the last several years.

The ratings are superior, excellent, very good, good and fair. Those receiving superior and excellent ratings were presented certificates from the Federation of Music Clubs. In order to receive a superior rating the contestant must have a grade of 95 or better. Superior ratings were not awarded by the judges in the primary solo or moderately difficult piano duo selections.

Federal prosecutors said they believed it was the first such conviction and sentence in the nation.

George Arnold Steele, formerly of Franklin Furnace, O., was convicted last week of improperly welding a total of 660 inches of ship steel while employed at the Bethlehem-Fairfield shipyard, Inc.

The other nine men, all arrested within two days last week, have been held under $5,000 bail each for further hearings April 22.

Federal Judge William C. Cole, specifying that Steele must serve his sentence in a reformatory to be designated by the U. S. attorney general, declared:

"What you have done is serious, very serious. Persons in war work must be made to realize the importance of their work. If they cannot realize it, they should not be there."

Steele, who glanced up from the floor only once or twice during Judge Coleman's remarks, told the court he had nothing to say beyond what he had already said. Steele maintained he had not intended to commit sabotage, but wanted to increase his wages.

The court said that "doing war work wrong endangers the lives of thousands of people. In your case there are no extenuating circumstances other than that you have served time in jail and have a family to look after. Your act was highly dishonorable."

Defense Attorney Marion Figurski of Baltimore pleaded with the court to suspend sentence, declared that "I blame the company for offering inducements to speed up work." He said Steele had had only a sixth grade education.

The young welder has a wife and 11-month-old child.

Judge Coleman said Steele was the son of an Ohio minister and three years ago was charged with shooting his father after the parent had Steele arrested on a chick-theft charge.

He was placed on probation after seven weeks' detention in reformatory. Judge Coleman said a psychiatric examination at that time showed the youth to be incompletely developed mentally.

EDISON WINS TITLE IN JUNIOR HIGH CAGE TOURNAMENT AT Y.

Central Eighth Grade Team Defeated 55 to 27 in Final Game.

Thomas Edison Junior High school, continued seventh, eighth and ninth grade Torch Y quintet won the city Junior Hi-Y basketball tournament at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday by defeating Central Junior High school's eighth graders 55 to 27.

The Edison eagles were led by Mouse Minus, high scoring center who threw in 29 points against the Central boys, the regular season champs. The victory was the third trophy won by the Edison players, who compiled previous 97 to 11 and 99 to 26 runways.

Saturday's championship tilt was a fairly close contest for the first three quarters. Edison doubled the score at the one period mark, 12 to 6, but the smaller Central dribblers fought determinedly and still had hopes at intermission with the score 26 to 14. Central played Edison on even terms for the third stanza, racking up seven points to the same number for their opponents. The upstarts tired, however, in the last period and were outscored 27 to 6.

The lineups:
Central 8: G. F. T. Davis, F. 3-1, T. B. Lovett, F. 6-1, Hiles, F. 1-1, C. Craft, F. 6-1, K. Miller, F. 6-1, D. Williams, F. 2-1, White, G. 2-1, Lighty, G. 1-1

Lake Port Accumulations Now Ready To Move.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, April 10.—The Great Lakes navigation season will help the steel scrap supply situation since "considerable accumulations at the head of the lakes are ready to move as soon as ships are available," the magazine steel reported today.

Melters in the Buffalo district expect increased receipts when the barge canal opens, bringing tonnage from the east. The situation in general is easy, steelmakers being well supplied and adding to reserves in a few cases.

The trade publication noted a lull in second-quarter steel orders, but "third-quarter buying is increasing and in some cases almost numbers for plain carbon steel have been received for November shipment. In the case of specially treated alloy steels controlled materials plan orders have been issued for still later delivery."

National ingot production fell 3% points last week to 99 per cent of estimated capacity, due principally to a drop of 11% points to 98½ per cent in the Pittsburgh district. Other declines included Youngstown, one point to 97 per cent, and Cleveland, four to 92. Cincinnati climbed eight points to 98 per cent, Wheeling four to 93 and Detroit two to 96.

The three-game-series totals posted by the individual contestants in the Commercial loop follow:

NEW MANAGERS CONFIDENT

The American league's two new managers, Ossie Bluege of the Washington Senators and Steve O'Neill of the Detroit Tigers, both were confident.

Bluege asserted his club was the most improved of any in the circuit while O'Neill warned that if first baseman Rudy York has a big year—and it looks like he may—then watch out for the Tigers.

That warning also was sent out by Luke Sewell of the St. Louis Browns, who declared "it is impossible for anyone to say how the race will come out but I do know that the Browns are not going to be shoveted around."

The Boston Red Sox, whose contributions to the armed services include an entire outfield and one of the game's better shortstops, remained optimistic.

Manager Joe Cronin observing "since all clubs have been hit hard, I look for a real good race."

SHIPYARD WELDER GIVEN PRISON TERM

Former Ohioan Must Serve Year and Half.

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, April 19.—A 20-year-old shipyard welder, one of four arrested on charges of sabotaging ships by doing defective work, was sentenced to one and a half years' imprisonment today by a judge who declared war workers "must be made to realize the importance of their work."

Federal prosecutors said they believed it was the first such conviction and sentence in the nation.

George Arnold Steele, formerly of Franklin Furnace, O., was convicted last week of improperly welding a total of 660 inches of ship steel while employed at the Bethlehem-Fairfield shipyard, Inc.

The other nine men, all arrested within two days last week, have been held under $3,000 bail each for further hearings April 22.

Federal Judge William C. Coleman, specifying that Steele must serve his sentence in a reformatory to be designated by the U. S. attorney general, declared:

"What you have done is serious, very serious. Persons in war work must be made to realize the importance of their work. If they cannot realize it, they should not be there."

Steele, who glanced up from the floor only once or twice during Judge Coleman's remarks, told the court he had nothing to say beyond what he had already said.

Steele maintained he had not intended to commit sabotage, but wanted to increase his wages.

The court said that "doing war work wrong endangers the lives of thousands of people. In your case there are no extenuating circumstances other than that you have served time in jail and have a family to look after. You act was highly dishonorable."

Defense Attorney Marion Figinski of Baltimore pleaded with the court to suspend sentence, declared that "I blame the company for offering inducements to speed up work." He said Steele had only a sixth grade education.

The young welder has a wife and 11-month-old child.

Judge Coleman said Steele was the son of an Ohio minister and three years ago was charged with shooting his father after the parent had Steele arrested on a chicken-theft charge. He was placed on probation after seven weeks' detention in reformatory. Judge Coleman said a psychiatric examination at that time showed the youth to be incompletely developed mentally.

Pitfalls of Love

BY ADELE GARRISON

HE MAY be here at any minute," I said. Hal Mardith and the woods were silent. I had my father's knife and we sat by our feet.

"I'll go back into the bedroom," Katharine said hurriedly. "I—I cannot listen to the rattling of that door—and my father must hear it. Equality of course, I later told Father, makes it to talk to me. I will come back."

"I probably shall be back," I told her, and she went into the bedroom. I made sure it was my father before opening the door, then admitted him.

"We have a caller, Father, with important news," I said. Then he recognized Hal and greeted him warmly.

"I'll go into the next room with Katherine while Hal tells you the story we have just heard," I said. "We all agree that you should know every detail of it, and that you will know just what to do."

Suspicion Revived

In the bedroom I found Katharine sitting up and down, her fingers clenched, her face pallid with anger, her eyes stormy.

"The wilderness woman in question," she exclaimed, and then that bitter gibe I realized how the thought of Jack's long association with Ruth Hayes had made her sub-consciously suspicious again of his reasons for keeping himself away from her.

I firmly grasped her arms and swung her around facing me.

"This doesn't get you anywhere, dear girl," I said. "You knew long ago that Ruth Hayes is capable of any infamy, and now she cannot wreak any real harm on either you or Jack."

She stared at me with hard, angry eyes.

Bitter Against Ruth

"What do you call this last performance?" she asked. "Won't that be real harm if she carries out her threat? I thought your father was having her trailed."

YOUR HEALTH

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Structure of Body

About ten years ago I went into a book store in Munich where I found a book by Fritz Kahn which was a description of human structure and function, and in some ways the most remarkable popular explanation of the human body that I have ever seen. I bought a copy and brought it back to my publisher, Mr. Alfred A. Knopf, and recommended it very strongly for publication in English. He commissioned Mr. Kahn to rewrite it and bring it down to date and it now appears called "Man in Structure and Function," translated from the German by George Rosen, M. D., and published in two very handsome volumes.

The author is a genius at being able to anticipate what the average person wants to know about his body and at being able to explain it. The illustrations, which he did himself, show an imaginative quality which both stimulates inquiry and stirs the imagination.

Every section of bodily activity is covered, beginning with the bones and muscles and going through the circulation of the blood and of the breathing apparatus, of digestion, of food nutrition, vitamins, diet, stimulants, clothing, the kidneys, the nervous system, the skin and reproductive system. There are altogether 481 illustrations, every one of which is a lesson in itself.

The illustrations are not like those in the old-time physiologies which are described in the immortal words of my friend, Mr. H. L. Mencken, the eminent aesthete of Baltimore, as showing "all the abdomen south of the umbilicus as a smooth and quite uneventful surface." They are, however, so coldly scientific that no offense could possibly be taken.

In the preface Dr. Kahn says: "The human biology of 1943 is not the anatomy of 1880, which began with the statement: 'The human body consists of a head, a trunk and limbs'; it is not the biology of 1900 starting off with the assertion: 'The cell is a small mass of protoplasm with a nucleus in the centre'; it is not synonymous with the diet books filled with tables of caloric values and protein contents — the human biology of 1943 is the study of man as the centre of the world, of an entirely new, completely unimagined world which has been disclosed to us during the past few decades, by the discoveries of modern science, and with the recognition of which there begins a new era in the study of man and the shaping and organization of human life."

As much as I am personally partly responsible for this publication, I have no hesitation in recommending it very warmly. Not only should it be in every school and high school in the land, but I would be of the opinion that a good many medical students, and even doctors, would get a good deal out of it than they do not already know.

The Stars Say—

For Tuesday, April 20

A DAY of unusual fate may be read from the ruling astral influences. It should be a time for concentrating with all the energies on ambitious projects. In private relations, of a cultural, artistic, social or romantic nature there should be advancement.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of unusual activity, but should not be subject to over-active, erratic or impetuous emotions, as such might arouse the opposition of those in high places.

A child born on this day should have many practical talents and skills as well as being artistic.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—A United States Marine today won a competition yesterday in a skating contest the other day at Marineland Navy park.

After the strenuous contest, he and his girl partner set down to rest. He rolled up his trousers and displayed an artificial lower leg. (Incidentally, the girl friend, broken and strangely angry, was straight home.)
